Comophysis.

An ejection of blood, from the mouth, attended by cough subsequent to some offection of the beaut, designates that species of the morrhage denominated by Nosologisto pulmonury Hamof typis. -Hamoptysis so termed from two greek words AI MA & ITTO ... literally implying spilling of blood, is located by the renowned Sullen in the class Grayia, and order Hamarhagia. By the came author, five species of this disease are inumerated, birst, Hamop dyou plethonce when it neither arises from external violence, nor a precedede by cough or suppression of usual waruations. 2" No lenta, when proceeding from external violence. 3th Philoca, where emaciation and con finued de belety enous - 4th Calculosa, when with the blood calcareous concretions are and the second

thoun up - 5th Trearia, when it originates from up preprint of some accustomed coveration -

Hemopysis comes on, with a sense of weight and anyiety is the chest, some difficulty of resperation; a pain of the breast, a sensation of head about the sternum, soldish taste, flushed countenance, iritation of the Laring, which excels oughing and hawking, during which, a discharge of blood of a flored colour, mixed with a grothy gland takes place . The craitation returning successive discharges of blood are hought whis the same manner, with a noise in the wind pipe, resembling the sound of air poping through a fluid . -The discharge of blood is sometimes small in man fity, and soon ceases, but in other cases tie in large quartities, and continues for several successive dayer But, A is seldom so profuse as to prove mor tal, either by excelo or sudden ing: · Jocation . Though Ramoptypis may occur at any period of left, it is a few to by Beller, and is formed by as beegnest up in the ages of its and 30 pm. The Belleric last of the Many at that priest.

Ollisted. The predisposing causes, are Lunguine. our temperament, queat sensibility and virilates elety, our present of any usual everelation, mal conformation of the chest, and preverus aggree Irons of the Thorax . The Eyer Lang courses are, a dimine tion of the weight of the atmosphere, violent eyer. cise either of the body, or organo ofresperation, exten nal reolence, and according to the Gullen yes five host D. Cauldwell, the annotator to Gullens practice of Medicine, allodges that it is making mere mani: mate machines of us to main Jain that Heat relayes, and Gold contracts the Lunge - But, if the Laws of manimate matter, are applicable to any one part of the animal economy, why not to the whole .. That exception heat does by racifying the
